The wines are marketed in three distinct quality lines: Selection, Vineyards and Classics. In addition, a rarity is produced every year which comes into the market only after it has spent at least ten years maturing in the cellars.

The grapes from each vineyard ferment separately in individual tanks to create individual base wines that contribute its own character to the creation of the final blend. All wines age for a minimum of 12 months in French Oak Barrels according to two principal criteria: Elegance required by Ornellaia and the expression of the Vintage.

TENUTA SAN GUIDO

Tenuta San Guido is an Italian wine producer in Bolgheri known as the producer of "Super Tuscan" wines. A very similar style to Bordeaux with its similar terroir, the estate was born in 1948, producing wines using Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc for the consumption of the founder. Two decades later they began producing commercially and in 1968 the first vintage of Sassicaia was released. In 2000 a new addition to the family was created; the Guidalberto, using Merlot grape with the desire of offering a wine that could be appreciated at a much younger age compared to Sassicaia.
